a The Panch Mahal district contains large areas of unoccupied fertile land. It has, also, an increasing trade assisted by a branch railway opened since 1872.
b Broach was affected by scarcity and epidemic disease in 1878.
c Increase in the population of the Jahgeer of Bombay Island and the decrease is attributed partly to increased demand for such labour. There were 70,947 persons returned at the city census of 1872 as having been born in Ratnagiri, whilst in 1881 the number had risen to 126,190.
d The increase in Khandesh is due to the extent of unoccupied fertile land available for cultivation, and partly to immigration.
e Part of Ahmednagar suffered severely during the famine of 1876-77.
f The eastern portion of Poona has suffered frequently from drought and famine during the last nine years.
g The decrease in Sholapur is due entirely to mortality or emigration, the results of famine in 1876-78.
h Portions of Satara suffered from famine, others have been continuously prosperous.
i Belgaum was included (except the western portion) in the famine area of 1876-78.
j As above.
k Kanara is the district most severely affected by the famine of 1876-78.
l Kanara is increasing along the coast, at sea-ports, and in the cultivated tracts inla d.
m In 1881 passengers by rail and railway employes travelling on duty were enumerated as part of the population of the places where they alighted during the night of the census or where the halts first ceased on the following morning.
n This comprises the expeditionary force in Kandahar, as well as the garrison in Quetta and minor out-posts. It is excluded from the rest of the returns, as the enumeration was imperfect in detail.

HEADS OF INTELLIGENCE.

(FROM 5TH TO 11TH NOV. INCLUSIVE.)

THE 40th birthday of the Prince of Wales was celebrated on Wednesday.

The Duke of Edinburgh on Wednesday visited Bristol, and inspected the Royal Naval Reserve and the Royal Naval Volunteers at that port.

The Court has gone into mourning for 10 days for Duke Frederick William of Wurtemburg, first cousin of Queen Victoria.

The vacant riband of the Order of the Thistle has been conferred upon the Marquis of Dalhousie.

The riband of the Order of St. Patrick will be conferred upon Lord O'Hagan.

The dignity of Knighthood has been conferred upon Mr. Erasmus Wilson, the President of the Royal College of Surgeons.

A Cabinet Council was held yesterday, at which all the Ministers, except Lord Northbrook, were present.

Mr. Gladstone and several of his colleagues in the Cabinet were present on Wednesday at the Lord Mayor's banquet in Guildhall. In his speech the Premier expressed a belief in the improved condition of Ireland, and, referring to obstruction of Parliamentary business, said it would be necessary next session to revise the rules of procedure, and he trusted that the question would be dealt with in no party spirit.

Lord Hartington, M.P., addressed an agricultural gathering at Yeovil last week, and, while justifying the passing of the Irish Land Act, observed that the circumstances of English farmers were wholly different.

Sir J. Holker, M.P., addressing his constituents at Preston on Monday, condemned the Irish Land Act as vicious in principle and mischievous in practice. Mr. Ritchie, M.P., and Mr. Campbell Bannerman, M.P., addressed their constituents on Tuesday in the Tower Hamlets and at Glasgow respectively.

Mr. Porter, Q.C., the newly-appointed Solicitor-General for Ireland, is a candidate for the representation of Londonderry county, in place of Mr. Law, appointed Lord Chancellor.

Mr. G. Howell has been accepted as the Liberal candidate at Stafford, and Mr. Salt, a former member, stands in the Conservative interest.

Dr. Brewer, Chairman of the Metropolitan Asylums Board, and formerly M.P. for Colchester, died last week. Lord Currichill, one of the Scotch Lords of Session, died on Saturday.

The Rev. Dr. McHale, Roman Catholic Archbishop of Tuam, died on Monday night in the 90th year of his age. The deaths are also announced of Mr. E. G. Halliwell, formerly M.P. for Newry, of Colonel Vandeleur, formerly M.P. for Clare county, and of Mr. Deakin, formerly M.P. for Launceston.

The Rev. T. J. Rowsell has been appointed a Canon of Westminster, and the Rev. John Oakley has been appointed Dean of Carlisle.

At a congregation held at Cambridge on Friday the Rev. Dr. Porter, Master of St. Peter's College, was elected Vice-Chancellor of the University in place of Dr. Perowne, retiring.

The Lord Mayor's procession on Wednesday passed from the city to Westminster, where the presentation of the Lord Mayor (Mr. Alderman Ellis) to the Chief Baron was made.

The evidence in the case of Lefroy, charged with the murder on the Brighton Railway, was closed on Monday, after which the prisoner's counsel addressed the jury in support of his client's case that a third man in the carriage had been the culprit. On Tuesday, after the Judge's summing up, the jury returned a verdict of guilty, and sentence of death was passed. The prisoner protested his innocence.

At the Manchester Assizes on Monday John Aspinall Simpson, aged 21, was convicted of the murder of a girl, aged 16, whom he had induced to meet him to make arrangements for their marriage. Sentence of death was pronounced.

A farmer, named George Hardy, of North Wheatley, Notts, was found on Sunday night murdered in his cow yard. A man is in custody charged with the commission of the crime.

The Coroner's inquest on the bodies of the persons killed by the collision on the Midland Railway at Desford was concluded on Monday. The jury returned a verdict of manslaughter against the signalman.

In an encounter between a gang of poachers and a party of keepers at High Legh, Cheshire, on Sunday morning, one of the poachers was killed and a keeper was severely injured.

A meeting was held at the Cannon-street Hotel on Monday, at which Sir P. Heywood, patron of the living of St. John's Miles Platting, was chairman, and resolutions were passed protesting against the imprisonment of the Rev. S. F. Green, and calling for the repeal of the Public Worship Regulation Act.

The formal appointment of Mr. Hugh Law to be Lord Chancellor of Ireland was received in Dublin on Monday.

The Home Rule League has been revived to fill the place of the suppressed Land League in Ireland, and a manifesto was issued on Tuesday in Dublin, calling upon the people to support the demand for national independence.

Archbishop Croke has qualified his recent denunciation of the "no rent" policy, and recommends tenants to offer what they consider to be a fair rent, and if that should be refused the responsibility would rest on others.

A circular purporting to be issued by Mr. Egan, the Treasurer of the Land League (who is now in Paris), has been circulated in the south of Ireland denouncing the Irish farmers the duty of not paying any rent, and urging them to withdraw from communication with any person who appeals to the Land Court.

In consequence of the immense number of applications to the Irish Land Court, now exceeding 16,000, four additional sub-commissions have been appointed. The Sub-Commissioners have now decided many cases of applications for fixing fair rents, and as in a majority of instances they have reduced the present rents, it is expected that the applications will become still more numerous.

OBITUARY.—Maj. A. J. de H. Harris, Mad. Ret.; Capt. T. H. Humffreys, Mad. Ret.; Lord Curriehill; Gen. C. J. Wright, Col. Com. R. A.; Dr. W. Brewer; Col. G. M. Vandeleur, late M. P.; Dr. Thos. Hayden, Roy. Univ. Ireland; the Hon. E. G. Penny, of Montreal; W. Gill, of Bombay High Court; Rev. W. Clarke, Canon of Norwich; Mr. Hallewell, late M.P.; J. H. Deakin, late M.P.; Dowager Baroness Dimsdale; the Hon. Mrs. Keane; Lady Carmichael Anstruther.

IN the French Chamber on Friday M. Jules Ferry requested an early discussion of the Tunis policy of the Government. On Saturday M. Ferry addressed the Chamber in a long speech, explaining and vindicating the action of the Government. After a speech from M. Amagat, in opposition to the Ministry, the debate was adjourned. On Monday the debate was continued by M. Naquet, M. Le Faure, and General Farre. On Tuesday M. Langlois and M. Clemenceau were the principal speakers, and on Wednesday M. Jules Ferry replied. After a stormy episode the Government obtained a considerable majority against a proposition of censure. M. Ferry and his colleagues tendered their resignations yesterday, and M. Gambetta was expected to be invited by the President to form a new Ministry.

SIR C. Dilke and the British Commissioners in Paris have returned to England. The treaty negotiations are suspended, but some of the French papers regard them as being virtually at an end.

General Saussier, at Kairwan, has demanded the immediate surrender of all insurgents belonging to the town, a lowering of the prices of produce offered for sale, the opening of all the shops, and a force of 100 horsemen for postal service.

The insurgents who have retired from the neighbourhood of Kairwan have proceeded, a portion towards Cabes, and the remainder towards the Djerid, near the Tripoli frontier.

The second ballots for the German Parliament have resulted favourably for the Liberals. A semi-official newspaper intimates that Prince Bismarck contemplates withdrawl from the head of public affairs, but the statement is not generally credited.

The new British Minister to the United States, Mr. Sackville West, landed at Philadelphia on Friday, and was warmly welcomed by the authorities of that city. At a banquet given on the same day most friendly language was used towards England, and Mr. Blaine, the Secretary of State, pronounced a glowing eulogium on Queen Victoria as "the first ruler of England that has been popular and beloved throughout the whole realm of Anglo-Saxon people."

(London Gazette.)

WAR OFFICE, PALL MALL, 11th Nov.

The following appointment to the Staff of the Bengal Army has been made by the Govt. of India :—

Capt. and Bt. Maj. N. R. Stewart, Bl. S. C., to be a Dy. Asst. Adjt.-Genl., vice Lieut.-Col. Evans, vice the knife! Was that also at the bottom of a pond? Had it gone with the pistol and the missing pocket-book and purse? Besides, Dr. Bond proved that, in all probability, Mr. Gold was dead before he was ejected. If so, then his could not have been the marks of bloody fingers on the footboard, and they must have been those of the escaping murderer. Again, the prisoner must have been, it was said, in a fainting state after the struggle. How could he have had the strength enough to lift the heavy body up and throw it out? There was a low round felt hat thrown out of the train at Hassock's-gate—whom did it belong to? Not to the prisoner, for he wore a high hat. Whose was this low hat? Months had elapsed since it was picked up, yet it had not been traced, though the maker's name was inside it! As the case stood, there was a strong presumption that there was a third party in the carriage, who was the murderer, and who had escaped. As to the pawning of the pistol on the 21st of June, there was the evidence of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton that he was at home all day up to seven o'clock. Mrs. Clayton swore she had her tea at six o'clock with Lefroy, and that he never left her until her husband returned after seven o'clock. It was impossible she could have been mistaken, because she was confined on the 23rd. Was it to be suggested that these persons had come here to commit perjury to secure the prisoner's escape? As to the evidence that day, it only showed that the prisoner had, as no doubt he had, for the reasons he had already suggested. Such was the whole of the evidence for the prosecution, and it was for the jury to say whether it carried conviction to their minds as an unbroken chain, the links of which were perfect and complete. It had been said that circumstantial evidence was convincing. He denied it, for it meant that human intellect was infallible. Yet how weak we were, and how open to error and mistake! Circumstantial evidence was fallible and had often misled jurors, and caused life to be sacrificed erroneously—the life of the innocent. For Heaven's sake he would say, let not the jury add another instance to the melancholy catalogue of persons so sacrificed. Let them stand and scrutinize the evidence most strictly, and bring to bear upon it all the sense and judgment God had given them. They could but do their best, but they must remember that if they erred in convicting him his blood would be upon their heads, and he prayed that at this awful hour He to whom all secrets were known would guide them to a right conclusion.

REPLY FOR THE PROSECUTION.

The Attorney-General then addressed the jury in reply on the part of the Crown, observing that the prisoner had had a most able defence. It was said that circumstantial evidence might mislead, and so might direct evidence. But in this case not only was circumstantial evidence, there was also a great mass of direct evidence in the case, pointing, as he submitted, clearly to the conclusion of guilt. There were certain facts not in dispute. The prisoner before the 27th of June was in a state of need, almost of desperation, pledging article after article, even of dress and clothing; even pledging the property of his friends and relatives with whom he lived. On the 27th he was driven, in order to obtain a few shillings, to commit a fraud which was a crime. These were steps taken to obtain money because he was in such a state of destitution. It did not follow that a person who committed one crime would always be ready to commit another; but if a man became a criminal from want of money, it was at least possible that he would be induced to commit a greater crime. Beyond a doubt the prisoner was with the murdered man while the murder was committed, and had upon his person marks of a struggle for life. He was found also in possession of the watch of the murdered man and that security upon him. He was found then telling falsehood after falsehood about the matter. He then fled pursuit of the police. The sender of this letter must have known that Lefroy was wanted, and it is not improbable that the person referred to will be called to account. The near relatives of the prisoner have been, it is almost unnecessary to say, plunged into grief and distress by the crime. An important fact, however, has been made known, on the authority of Mr. Johnson, the postmaster of South Beddington, a rural district which adjoins that portion of Wallington in which the Cathcart-road is situated. Mr. Johnson says that Lefroy, whom he knew as Lee, used frequently to come for letters, which were addressed to him at the post-office in that name. This circumstance strengthens the evidence regarding the pawntickets, and it is probable that Mr. Johnson would have been called as a witness, but the fact of Lefroy's identity with Lee was never brought to his mind until he read the evidence of the pawnbrokers' assistant. Since the convict's return to Lewes a number of letters have been addressed to him, but most of these have been withheld, the chaplain and Governor exercising their discretion in the matter. The visiting justices have access to the condemned cell, and upon their order it is understood the relatives of the unfortunate man will be admitted, but his other friends will be compelled to apply to the Home Office for the necessary permit. Although Lefroy is not now entitled to any special treatment, it is in the power of the prison doctor and the authorities to vary his diet in any way they consider proper. The chaplain, through whom all communications inward and outward must necessarily pass, also has the selection of the books allowed to the prisoner. The 29th inst. has been fixed for the execution.

All the arrangements for the execution of Lefroy are in the hands of Mr. Bull, the under-sheriff. Marwood will be present at the execution. The last execution (and the first private one) in Lewis Gaol was that of Martin Brown, in 1869, for the murder of David Baldy, on Newmarket Hill, Sussex. Lefroy maintains a very quiet and reserved manner. He appears much more easy in his mind than he was before the trial.—Evening Standard, Nov. 11.

THE STATE OF IRELAND.

SPEECH BY ARCHBISHOP CROKE.

DUBLIN, Nov. 4.

ARCHBISHOP CROKE has changed front again and qualified his recent pronouncement against the "no rent" manifesto. His Grace is reported to have received yesterday a large and highly representative deputation of the Ballingarry branch of the Land League, headed by the Very Rev. Dr. Ryan, P.P., together with his two curates, the Revs. P. Ryan and James Hickey, who waited upon him to present an address. The recognition of a body declared by the proclamation of the Queen's representative to be an unlawful and criminal association, and of his own clergy as connected with it, is a significant fact and a singular comment upon his Grace's recent letter. It is not, of course, to be expected that, countenanced as it is by ecclesiastical authority, the Ballingarry branch or any other in the division will observe the meaning of the proclamation and disconnect itself from the unlawful confederacy. The presentation now made was of the illuminated copy of the address which was read to his Grace on the occasion of his visit to Ballingarry last month. The deputation was received in one of the large rooms of the palace, where, it is stated, a plentiful lunch was laid out. Mr. Martin Fitzgerald, secretary of the Ballingarry branch of the Land League, expressed the pleasure he felt, in common with the people of Ballingarry, in paying this tribute of respect to their revered Archbishop, in whom they recognized, not only the good and zealous churchman, but the fearless, far-seeing and uncompromising patriot. The Archbishop accepted the very beautiful address with much pleasure, and felt highly honoured by their presence. They had is the law to be enforced? How can they distrain when tenants, tithes upon millions of tenants?" the Duke of Wellington to the King:—"The land, therefore, of any country is the common property of the people of that country, because its real owner, the Creator who made it, has transferred it as a voluntary gift to them.' Dr. Nulty, Bishop of Meath:—'Pay no rent.'—By order.—Patrick Egan, Treasurer"

DUBLIN, Nov. 10th.

The Land Commissioners, Mr. Justice O'Hagan, Mr. Litton, Q. C., and Mr. Vernon, resumed their Court sittings to-day. In the case of "Barley, tenant; Montgomery, landlord," an important decision was given. The originating notice had been served to fix a fair rent in respect of lands in the county of Down, held at the yearly rent of 115*l*. It appeared that an ejectment for non-payment of rent had been brought against the tenant in August, 1880, the rent in arrear being 35*7l*. Judgment was recovered, but the habere was not executed until the 8th of March last, and the time to redeem did not expire until after the passing of the Land Act. It appeared that the tenant re-entered into possession on the 5th May, alleging that the agent had given him permission, while the agent swore that an entry had been effected through force. In September last an ejectment on the title was brought to recover possession and the tenant, relying on the alleged permission of the agent, entered an appearance, and demanded a statement of claim. He subsequently issued notice to have a fair rent fixed, alleging that he was a present tenant. Mr. Shaw sought to extend the time for redemption of sale. Mr. Weir, for the landlord, resisted the motion, relying on an affidavit that the tenant had indicated the agents how to execute the habere by promising to pay out of the crops, which he never did, and that possession had been forcibly taken. Judge O'Hagan delivered judgment, refusing the application with costs, as the tenant had elected to treat himself as a present tenant under an alleged agreement with the agent to occupy they would not allow him to come into Court as an evicted tenant to claim benefits under the section applicable only to evicted tenants. Mr. Commissioner Litton, Q.C., in concurring, said the tenants of Ireland must understand that if they came into Court to get benefits they must be prepared to act justly. Several solicitors made application to extend the time for recording applications to fix fair rents in several hundred cases, on the ground that the tenants, particularly in Connaught, would not have their affidavits ready by Saturday next, the last day for recording applications. The Court refused to extend the time beyond Saturday, on which day they would sit till a late hour. Hundreds of applications were recorded from all parts of Ireland.

The North-west Sub-Commissioners heard seven cases to-day, in which tenants claim to have fair rents fixed. Three were tenants on Mr. Dacre Hamilton's estate, and four on Miss Rose's estate. In one case the tenant said the crops on the lands she had reclaimed would not pay for the seed and labour, and the tenant deposed that the three acres of land he reclaimed would give no crop, and on part of it there had been no crop for twenty-years. The principal causes of dispute were as to the rent placed on mountain land at a comparatively recent period.

At the resumed inquiry on November 9 into the death of Ellen Macdonagh and Mary Deane, who were killed during the recent affray between police and people at Belmullet, Antony Monaghan stated that he was present during the affray. He saw Ellen Macdonagh knocked down and stabbed by a constable with a bayonet. He did not see any stones thrown until the firing commenced. He did not see people doing anything to justify the attack of the police. Patrick Kinahan, who was also present at the affray, said there was a stone throw before the police charged. He saw about ten stones thrown after the charge and during the firing. There were about a hundred people present when the charge was made. Edward Munnelly gave a corroborative account, and described how he was pursued by a policeman and only escaped by the policeman falling down. Mrs. Macdonagh, mother of the deceased, spoke of the girl coming home wounded, and of the police dragging the wounded brother, who has attempted his life. The girl was then left in great pain rolling on the floor. Anthony Macdonagh, brother of the deceased, said his sister received a wound before the firing commenced. He saw the girl and her brother both stabbed by a policeman. Whilst attempting to assist the girl home his brother was stabbed twice in the thigh. He could not identify the policeman who stabbed the girl, but identified another man.

There were twenty-four applications for malicious injuries before the Kanturk Presentment Sessions on Nov. 9. Six of these were made at the suit of Mr. Mortimer, solicitor, of Mallow, in behalf of his clients, and were heard together, the outrages, which consisted of burning and destroying farmers' houses, having been committed on the same night.

The total amount claimed in the twenty four applications was 1022*l*. Six of that number, amounting to 212*l*., were adjourned till next Thursday. The Court granted 37*l*. 10*s*.

The tenants on the Marquess of Ormonde's estates, in the neighbourhood of Carrick-on-Suir, met Lord Arthur Butler on Nov. 9 and declined to pay rent unless an abatement of 25 per cent. was granted. Lord Arthur said he must first consult Lord Ormonde, and the meeting then broke up.

Mr. Charles O'Mahoney, son of Mr. T. O'Mahoney, hotel proprietor andpostmaster. Rosscarbery was arrested on Nov. 10th under the Coercion Act, and conveyed to Cork Gloomy Gates. The arrest is generally concerned in some outrages in Rosscarbery, where an attempt was recently made to blow up a house.

The farmers in the county Cork are beginning to show a change of front with regard to fox-hunting. The members of the United Hunt Club met in great numbers at Carnavar on Nov. 9th, and had a successful day. Slight attempts were made to prevent sport, but the farmers of the district, perceiving this, gave every assistance in promoting it.

On Nov. 10th several shots from a revolver were fired by a disguised man at some labourers who were engaged in ploughing for Mr. Dolphin, of Cork, and others who had struck for higher wages. Fortunately none of them were injured. This is the second attack that has been made upon them.

Miscreants visited the residence of Lord Plunkett, Protestant Bishop of Meath, came in a body into Charleville on Nov. 10th and served notice of their intention to apply to the Land Commission to fix a fair rent.

A grotesque scene is reported to have occurred at Tralee Petty Sessions. A baker summoned another for an assault. The defendant produced witness who swore that it was not he who struck the complainant, but refused to tell who did it. He expressed they declined to answer on the ground that it might criminate themselves. Mr. A. H. Herbert, the chairman, in consequence of this unsatisfactory answer, sentenced the defendant to three months' imprisonment and hard labour, and refused to change the sentence or allow an appeal. Mr. Murphy, solicitor, protested against his conduct, and said that during his experience of six years he had never seen anything like it.

The Dublin Gazette contains a return of outrages committed in the country in the month of October, which amounted to 490. It also states that writs have been issued for the election of a Representative Peer in the place of the late Lord Bangor.

Mr. James Tuite, late secretary of the branch of the Molly Maguires, and Land Leaguer, who was discharged from Kilmainham on Friday last, was rearrested this morning amid much excitement.

Between 40 and 50 tenants on Mr. Totenham's estates, in the county Wexford, met in the office of Mr. Boyd, of New Ross, the agent, and served writs. About a dozen who had been served with writs, paid their rent and costs, though they had forfeited the claims to reduction offered to the remainder. A decided change for the better has taken place in New Ross. The system of Boycotting is seldom heard of, and it is stated that the Land League is beginning to be forgotten. The Sub-Commission sat to-day in Claremarris to open the Land Court sittings for the western province, but owing to some informality the list of cases to be heard was not gone into, and the Sub-Commissioners had gone on to Belliina, were they will sit to-morrow.

The fox covert on the lands of Lough Rea, the residence of Mr. William H. Daniel, county Westmeath, was maliciously set on fire in several places last night and destroyed. The loss will be seriously felt by the Westmeath Hunt, as it was considered the best in the county.

Mr. Philip O'Sullivan, who had been secretary of the Templederry branch of the Land League, was arrested this morning under the Protection Act. He is suspected of having posted on a tree a copy of the "No rent" proclamation.

A QUIET NEIGHBOURHOOD. Nov. 9.

Mr. R. W. C. Reeves, of Bessborough, Killimer, contradicts a statement that, owing to the opposition of the tenants who threatened to poison dogs and horses, the members of the Killimer Hunt were compelled to abandon the meet for the present. Mr. Reeves says "These hounds (which are my private property) met on Thursday at my gate at 12 o'clock, and from that until after 4 o'clock we were almost continually hunting, and I met with the greatest civility and kindness from everyone I saw. I heard, however, that two farmers spoke to some members of the hunt and requested them not to hunt on their lands, but this was not said in my presence for hearing. As to their going to main dogs or horses nothing of the kind took place, as I was with the hounds myself all day, and I am quite certain of one thing, which is this, that there is not a man in the barony who would injure a dog belonging to me. There is not a quieter or better conditioned set of people in the world than my neighbours here of all classes, and it is really too bad that such unfounded aspersions should be made on their characters."

MR. GLADSTONE AT GUILDHALL

THE following is a complete report of Mr. Gladstone's speech delivered at the Lord Mayor's banquet to the Guildhall on Wednesday night (Nov. 9th) :—

Mr. Gladstone rose, and said,—My Lord Mayor, my Lords, Ladies, and Gentlemen,—I return you grateful thanks on the part of my colleagues and on my own part, my Lord Mayor, for the singularly kind manner in which you have been pleased to introduce this toast to the notice of this distinguished company. I may say that we well understand the spirit in which such a toast is given and received, and that we accept with thankfulness the homage which is rendered to the principles of public law and constitutional liberty in the presence of those who happen for the moment to be the representatives of legal authority in the country. (Cheers.) My Lord Mayor, you have proposed in glowing terms the health of the Prince of Wales. I am one among the few now present, who well remember the day when a transparency, placed on a scroll across the whole breadth of this hall, announced not his birthday, but what is a different matter, his day of birth. Forty years ago I had the honour to share the hospitality of the Lord Mayor at the Guildhall, and perhaps that circumstance may be my excuse if upon the present occasion I direct my attention to the past, in which I have had a considerable share, or a share of some considerable duration, rather than to the future, to which I can have but little to say. My Lord Mayor, comparing the state of things in which it was my duty this day 12 months to return thanks for a toast corresponding with that you have now proposed, I may record with much gratification the acknowledgment which we are free to make of important changes which have occurred in the general condition of affairs. Then, as now, a prominent and a painful topic in the minds of all even here in the heart of this great city was the condition of Ireland; but in drawing the comparison between the two periods I am glad to say that I can now discern the signs of improvement. (Cheers.) We were then entering into a great crisis. It had then already become manifest that there must be a struggle between the representatives of law and the representatives of lawlessness, and we had adopted the necessary measures for ascertaining whether, under the laws as they stood, the power committed to the executive Government was sufficient to enable it to discharge its primary duties to the Throne and to the community. A short experience showed that unhappily it was not in our power with the means that then existed to secure either the peace of the country or the due enforcement of private rights and obligations. We applied to Parliament to strengthen our hands, and to do so in a double sense—in the first place by an augmentation of our executive power, and in the second place by an improvement of the law; and we felt that that augmentation of our executive power could be more freely and effectually used when it came to be accompanied with conclusive proof given by the Legislature of this country of its disposition to meet every reasonable demand, and to the best of its ability to steadily promote the welfare, on the principal of equal justice, of the whole people of Ireland. (Cheers.) My Lord Mayor, it was the pleasure of the Legislature to meet our request in both particulars. Since they have met that request the great struggle which was in its earlier stage 12 months ago may be said to have reached its maturity, and to have come to a crisis, and though it is not for me to anticipate the future with very sanguine confidence, this at least I may say—in the first place, that, as I believe, the people of this country are unanimously convinced that it was necessary for us to take strong measures (cheers) in defence both of public law and of private liberty; and in the second place, that one question at least has been decided—namely, that whereas it was attempted to prevent the people of Ireland from obtaining the full benefit of the beneficent legislation that Parliament had devised for them, the people of Ireland, on their part, are determined, and nothing can now prevent them from doing it, to make a full trial and obtain the full benefit of the Land Act this year placed upon the Statute Book. (Cheers.) I hold in my hand, my Lord Mayor, a very short and simple if significant proof of the treatment to which the people of Ireland have been subjected by those who call themselves their friends. It is a notice emanating from high authority, and is couched in these terms :—

"Any person paying his rent before Parnell and the other prisoners are liberated, without the sanction of the Land League, will be 'Boycotted.'" (Laughter.) I need not, my Lord Mayor, expound to you in detail the meaning of that phrase; but this I will say, that its mildest significance is the total ruin of the livelihood of the man against whom its machinery is directed. And, my Lord Mayor, this I am happy to say, that although I cannot yet state that throughout the whole of Ireland the covenants into which the cultivators of the soil have entered are punctually performed, yet that they are largely and increasingly performed, and, moreover, that those who decline their performance at this moment are not the impoverished portion of the community, but are generally those who are well able to fulfil the engagements into which they have entered, and who have been, I hope, but partially and for a moment corrupted or at least tainted in their views of public duty by the false and evil instructions of those who should have given them better lessons. My Lord Mayor, this I can venture to say—first, that the Land Act—for this has been already determined—will be fully made use of by the people of Ireland; secondly, that it will be judicially and impartially administered by the persons—the eminent persons—to whom the Legislature has committed the discharge of that great trust; and thirdly, that through the earnest and vigilant attention of the Government, and especially of the right hon gentleman near me, the Chief Secretary for Ireland (cheers), with whose courage and unbending energy we are well acquainted, the law will be administered and enforced with firmness and with decision. (Cheers.) And the enforcement of the law will be intrusted to a body of persons in whom, whether the representatives of the civil power as the Royal Constabulary, or whether the assistants of those representatives —I mean the military forces of the Crown—have already earned a new title to the gratitude of their countrymen and to the esteem of impartial patriots with which they have performed duties as difficult as ever were put in charge of persons authorized to execute the law. (Cheers.) My Lord Mayor, it was not only in Ireland that 12 months ago we had to contemplate a state of things calculated to create the utmost anxiety, and I am happy to think that, if my noble friend the Foreign Secretary be called upon by you in the course of the evening to refer to the affairs of his department, he will be able to draw a picture less charged with anxious and critical features than that which was presented to you 12 months ago. There are not the only national blessings that we are called upon, as I think, humbly to acknowledge. If I took to the north-west frontier of India, I am happy to be able to state that although all our relations are not yet settled—although we cannot yet say that we have an Afghanistan which is united, independent, and powerful—yet at least we can say we have an Afghanistan which, instead of being hostile, is under the friendly care of a single ruler; which, instead of being offended with the military presence of the foreigner, so hateful in the sight of every man of martial race, is at present entirely independent of that presence; which wishes to be on good terms with us; is in tranquillity, and receive from us the good and friendly offices of neighbours, which it will be our study carefully and loyally to render. Travelling further south, my Lord Mayor, I am happy to think that peace and the prospects of peace present themselves to us in South Africa. I will not say that the questions we have had to deal with in Transvaal have been settled finally or that they might not fairly and reasonably create differences of opinion. Nor do I seek to obtain covertly from you any approbation of the means we have employed or the steps we have taken. But this I may venture to say, that we have made ample provision in the first place for unity of direction in South Africa, and in the second place for the protection of the rights and interests of the natives of that country, which, I hope, will be more effective, greater, and more effective than we could have obtained by any other course, and further, I will not scruple to add, I trust we have laid the foundations—we have made a beginning at least—of early prejudge the future—of permanent concord between the British race in South Africa and that other race of kindred blood, of similar vigour and of equal civilization of the Dutch race—with which we have to deal, and which has appeared with such force throughout the world, which has signalized itself in a long course of history by its courage, and by an appreciation of liberty and independence not unequal to our own. (Cheers.) We now abide, my Lord Mayor, to look upon the affairs of the Transvaal with no other desire than this, that the arrangements which have been made and which were urgently pressed upon the western province, but which were made in consequence of the anxious deliberations of

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

TUESDAY EVENING, Nov. 29.

REUTER'S telegrams of yesterday are again scanty, and are only to hand from London and New York. The London telegram reports no change, apparently, in anything, except a slight improvement in Government Securities, which would seem to indicate returning ease in the Money market.

Cotton is reported unchanged, and sales at Liverpool 12,000 bales. The spinners seem to have stocked themselves freely at the low prices, and do not keep up their takings of 80,000 to 100,000 bales per week, now that prices have gone up ¼ to ⅜ per lb., but the lower estimates of the crop now generally received suffice, apparently, to keep prices steady at the advance. The Manchester market is again reported "firm," without further remark. On the prices now asked there for staples little can be done on direct orders from the Eastern markets, but the speculative buying must have been large, and that will probably sustain the market for many months to come.

EXCHANGE opened with a slightly weaker tendency, but without any actual reduction in rates. Later in the day, however, the Banks were more willing buyers, and a fair amount of Bills were placed at Rs. 8 7-32d. for 3 months' credits. We now quote therefore :—

|---|---|---|
| Telegraphic Transfer..... | Rs. 7 29-32d. | per Re. |
| Bank Drafts on demand..... | Rs. 7 31-32d. | " |
| Three months' sight credits .... | Rs. 8 3-32d. | " |

GOVERNMENT PAPER.—Under the influence of the advices from England the market for these has been active and advancing. A large business has been done in Four-per-cent. at 101¾, and corresponding rates for Four-and-a-half.

SHARES.—The tone of the market generally has remained unchanged, and the fluctuations in values have been but slight. In some cases quotations have been advanced Rs. 5 to Rs. 10, and in some cases they have been reduced by similar amounts; but there has been no general movement, one way or the other. The market has not been active.

COTTON is steady with a fair business passing, and rates practically unaltered.

WHEAT and SEEDS are without quotable change in values, but it cannot be said that much new business is being done in either at current rates.

FREIGHTS seem a shade firmer, and the quotation of 40s. to Liverpool which was given yesterday may to-day be quoted with more certainty. The amount of ready tonnage available is not large, but neither, for the time, are the wants of shippers.

PIECE-GOODS.—We have to repeat the monotonous remark of many months past, that the market is quiet, with a moderate business only.

METALS.—Copper is quiet and unchanged, and no new business can for the time be put through, as it is cheaper in the bazaar than it can be laid down from England without any commissions. In Iron we hear of nothing doing.

The Bombay Gazette

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1881.

THE announcement that Parliament will assemble a fortnight earlier than usual—on the 19th of January, instead of the 4th or 5th February—is indicative of the determination of the Government to deal energetically with the mass of arrears occasioned by the passage of the Land Act last session. It may also be taken as an intimation that the procedure of the House will be subjected to a very sweeping revision. What between obstruction and the accumulation of business, the House has of late years found it almost impossible to dispose of half the work waiting to be done. A census of the innocents ruthlessly massacred at the close of the recent sessions would form a very melancholy document. Mr. Gladstone has pledged himself to the application of measures of revision so thorough in their character, that the only doubt is, whether the Conservatives will acquiesce in them, seeing that their application will necessarily reduce minorities to helplessness in presence of a strong majority led by a strong Minister. If the plans of internal reform which the Ministry are almost certain to introduce are resisted by Sir Stafford Northcote, it is scarcely possible to insure their being carried through the House. In the absence of Mr. Parnell, Lord Randolph Churchill and the Conservative freelances would make a very good obstructive defence of those forms of the House which secure to the young Ishmaels of both parties in turn privileges and immunities in carrying on a guerilla warfare to harass the occupants of the Treasury Bench. If on the other hand the leaders of the Opposition agree to the proposals of the Government, the machinery of Parliament will be greatly simplified and the House of Commons would become an automatic machine for the registering, without hesitation or delay, of that Committee of its own body which is called the Cabinet. The inconvenience will be that the House of Commons of tradition will have become modified to an extent which would not have been conceived possible a few years ago. But we must pay the penalty of progress.

THE s. s. Surat arrived in Bombay harbour yesterday, with the English mails of the 9th instant and 127 first-class passengers. She left Gravesend on the 2nd November ; and the voyage hither viâ the Canal has occupied just 27 days. The lines did not fall altogether in pleasant places to the passengers ; they experienced rough weather in the Channel and in the Bay of Biscay, with abnormally hot weather in the Red Sea, where the glass marked 95° in the shade. The engines did not work quite satisfactorily at first, and in consequence of several breaksdown, a requisition was addressed to the commander asking him to have the machinery professionally examined at Gibraltar, in order to see whether the ship was fit to proceed to sea. He treated the matter at first as a practical joke, and subsequently refused to agree to the inspection, being of opinion, as he put it, that every thing was "all serene." But the requisitionists were not to be baulked of their purpose, and proceeded in a body to interview Lord Napier, the Governor. He, it would seem, acted ultra vires in detaining a mail-steamer, as the information upon which he acted was not "sworn information." But he ordered the examination ; and Lloyd's surveyor having received his fees, and being able to find no fault with the Surat, she departed once more on her way rejoicing. She brings several celebrities, and local officials returning to harness after a brief spell of furlough. Amongst the former are three M. P.'s, who will hereafter, no doubt, pose as Indian Authorities : they are headed by the Right Hon'ble W. E. Baxter, who is running amuck at all Indian Ecclesiastical Establishments, and declares that, so far as in him lies, there shall be no more connection between Church and State here in India. Mr. Hamilton, the elected of Lanarkshire, is a personal friend of Sir James Fergusson, and must therefore in the course of his coming travels be prepared for a good deal of "official whitewash." Mr. Johnson, the remaining M. P., is temporarily detached from St. Stephen's owing to family considerations. The Surat brought many globe-trotters, graphically described by the late lamented Ali Baba, the chief of whom is Sir William Abdey. And amongst local celebrities is our old friend, Mr. T. C. Glover, who has done more for the extension of public works in this country than any other man of his generation. He has laid down upwards of 800 miles of railway, and he also built the Prince's Dock. It is to be hoped that when the next distribution of Indian honours takes place the claims of the greatest Indian railway contractor of modern times—or indeed of all time, ancient or modern—will not be overlooked. Looking down the passenger list, we notice that Mr. Simpson Byrne, Deputy Accountant-General to the Government of Bombay, has returned to duty ; and so also has Major Wilson, Superintendent of Police of the Nasik district. There are also other officials, but they belong to other presidencies, and need not, therefore, be named in a Bombay paper. Upon the whole, the travellers were, according to most accounts, too many to be comfortable, and too mixed to assimilate. One informant writes that the usual amount of spooning and flirtation was gone through, but that "although many ladies were coming out to be married, and others who wished to be [this is libellous, but we will print it, disavowing responsibility], I, as a faithful chronicler, am bound to state that only one engagement leading up to the Hymeneal altar was contracted."

THE mode in which the officers who are entitled to the benefits of the pension rules of 1881 have been divided into classes has given rise to much comment. There cannot, of course, be any doubt that the officers who entered the Staff Corps prior to or on the 12th September,

THE VICEROY'S TOUR.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

BENARES, Nov. 29.

The Viceroy and party proceeded up the river before breakfast in boats, whence they viewed the temples and ghats. In the afternoon, at 4 o'clock, an informal address of welcome was spoken in the Town Hall to His Excellency by Mr. Hercules Ross at the head of the Municipal Committee, to which the Viceroy replied briefly. Here also were exhibited specimens of the arts and manufactures of Benares for inspection.

Subsequently the Viceroy and party went over the Vizianagram female school, which educates 200 pupils. They next visited the Observatory—an elegant and curious building—where representatives of the Bengali community presented an address of welcome to Lord Ripon, which His Excellency acknowledged in a few words. The party next visited the Sirra Church Missionary Society school, one of the pupils reading an address of welcome, which the Viceroy briefly acknowledged.

There was a levée last night, which was well attended.

BENARES, Nov. 30, 1-45 A. M.

The banquet this evening by the Maharaja to the Viceroy and the Benares community was a great success. One hundred and fifty guests sat down to dinner, which was held in the immense hall adjoining the Nandeur palace, recently built for the occasion. Mr. Sladen, Commissioner, on behalf of the Maharaja, proposed the health of the Queen-Empress, followed by that of the Viceroy. The Viceroy replied in a short speech, his speeches throughout being heartily cheered. The Maharaja himself made a short speech, thanking the Viceroy for proposing his health, and expressing his pleasure at the reception he had met with. The hall was handsomely decorated with flags, banners and swords worked into devices.

THE NIZAMGHAT EXPEDITION.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

CALCUTTA, Nov. 29.

The troops occupied Nizamghat without opposition on the 19th inst. A deputation of the Abors arrived in camp on the 25th. The views of Government were explained to them: after which they returned to the opposite bank of the Dibong. There are rumours of a combination of the Abors and Mishamis, but they are not well authenticated. Great difficulties and very hard work were experienced, the troops in marching to Nizamghat having to cut their way through dense jungle.

THE HON'BLE MR. MARRIOTT, the Advocate-General, has obtained leave on medical certificate for twelve months.

CHOLERA still hangs about in several parts of the presidency. The latest report states that there were 9 cases and 5 deaths in the Ahmednagar collectorate (Nagar and Kopargaon), and 2 deaths in the Sholapur district (Madha). From Nasick it is reported that "cholera still continues in Chandor, Baglan, and Malegaon;" from Poona, that there is cholera in the Haveli and Junnar talukas; and from Rajkot, "cholera in Jetpur and Navanagar."

IN consequence of the enforcement of the quarantine regulations at Aden, the three batteries of garrison artillery and the 1st Battalion Wiltshire Regiment quartered there are not to be relieved until April next.

THE gentleman who has this year been appointed in the North-West Provinces to the post of probationer in the Native Civil Service, is Raja Chitpal Singh, Taluqdar of Chitpalgarh, in the Pertabgarh district.

A RATHER peculiar case of enticing away a married woman was disposed of by Mr. Dosabhoy Framjee at the Girgaum Police Court yesterday. A Mahomedan ayah named Bunnoobee, in the employ of a Parsee lady living at Pareil, made the acquaintance at a funeral of a married Mahomedan girl named Fatma, apparently sympathised with her at the maltreatment she received from her father-in-law and mother-in-law, and on the pretence of placing her in better circumstances in life, induced her to withdraw altogether from her husband's protection. Early on the morning of the 27th June last Bunnoobee was alleged to have awakened Fatma from her bed, and to have taken her to the house of Mr. Hormusjee Jehangir Dadysett, situated in the Parsee-street opposite the Cathedral, where it was said she lived under concealment in a back room on the first storey of the house. The house was under repairs, and the owner with his family had gone to live temporarily in a bungalow at Gowalia Tank. It was alleged that, while residing in the Dadysett's Fort house for a month and a half, Fatma was visited daily by a young Parsee who gave his name as "Nowrojee Wadia," and who had employed two servants to attend to Fatma's wants. Under Bunnoobee's instructions, Fatma subsequently went to Poona and later on to Mahar, whither she was followed by her husband, who laid a complaint before the Foujdar. Before that officer the girl Fatma made two contradictory statements, in the first of which she suppressed all mention of the circumstances connected with her residence in the Dadysett house in the Fort. She also made two similarly contradictory statements before Mr. Dosabhoy Framjee. Mr. Hormusjee Jehangir Dadysett, who was called as a witness for the defence, said that he, his son, and his manager were daily in the habit of going over every nook and corner of his house while it was under repairs, and that it was impossible for the girl Fatma to have resided there without their knowledge. He further said that the repairs were completed on the 15th June last, and that he and his family returned to live in the house on the following day, whereas the story for the prosecution was that Fatma was enticed away on the 27th June, and lived in Mr. Hormusjee's house for a month and a half. The magistrate, upon the evidence and a personal inspection of the premises, came to the conclusion that Fatma's story was thoroughly unworthy of belief. That there had been some complicity between the prisoner and Fatma in the first instance the court had no doubt; but looking to the false and contradictory statements made by the girl, and the rest of the evidence being insufficient to sustain the charge, his Worship discharged the prisoner.

THE reports of the Revenue and Agricultural Department on the state of the season and prospects of the crops throughout India for the week ending the 23nd November are summed up in the following "general remarks":—More rain has fallen in the Madras Presidency, and has much benefited the standing crops; but some localities are in need of a further supply. In the Bombay Presidency prospects continue much the same as in the previous week, rain being still urgently required in Ahmednagar and Nasik. The reports from Mysore, Coorg, the Berars, Hyderabad, Central India, and Rajputana continue favourable. In Bengal the prospects of the rice crop are generally satisfactory, but in parts of Orissa the outturn in unirrigated lands has been damaged through want of rain; rain is also required for rabi sowings in some districts. Reaping of aali paddy has commenced in Assam, and both in that province and in Burma the standing crops continue to thrive. There has been no rain in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, though it is urgently needed in parts and would everywhere be beneficial to the young crops. Fever is abating, but cholera has made its appearance in two districts of Oudh. The want of rain for the rabi is also making itself felt in the Punjab; at present, however, the prospects in that province are generally favourable.

A PLAINT has been filed, on behalf of Yeshwantrao Sadashewrao, a descendant of the well-known Baroda banker, Gopalrao Myral, under the following circumstances:—It appears that Yeshwantrao Gopalrao, who was the adopted son of Gopalrao Myral, died about the middle of July, 1876. When very near his death, he summoned one of his kinsmen, named Gungadharao Madhowrao, to his bedside, and adopted him as his son. Gungadharao inherited the valuable moveable and immoveable properties of his adoptive father in different parts of British as well as native territory. It is alleged in the plaint that the adoption was invalid, and conferred no right upon Gungadhar (who was the only son unadopted of his father) to any portion of the property. The plainti, therefore prays that the adoption should be set aside, and that his interest in the property might be ascertained and declared.

THE following Royal Engineer officers, at present on furlough in England, will not return to India, but revert to the Imperial Establishment for duty on the home roster:—Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel W. North, Major D. C. Walker, and Lieutenant J. C. L. Campbell.

THE convoy for General Wilkinson's column started from Dera Ghazi Khan on the 24th, and expected to reach Saunra yesterday, communicating with General Wilkinson from Ekbhai and by express through Thal. Some stores have already reached Saunra, and 210 camels are now ready there to take on supplies to Hinglan Kach. It is doubted whether the road beyond Hinglan is practicable for camels.

DR. SCHLICH, the officiating Inspector-General of Forests, has lately visited the Agra and Muttra districts with Mr. Greig, the Conservator of the N. W. P. Forests, with the view of ascertaining whether forest and grass reserves can be established on the large areas of waste land existing in those districts. This measure has been strongly recommended by the Agricultural Department for the purpose of protecting the cattle-grazing country lying on the banks of the Jumna, which suffered so severely in the famine of 1877, when thousands of cattle perished for want of fodder. Dr. Schlich was met by Mr. E. C. Buck and the officials of the N. W. P. Agricultural Department at Awa, where the experimental plantations and reserves commenced on the Court of Wards Estate under the management of Mr. Crooke, C.S., and Mr. Wilson, of the Canal Department, were inspected.

THE archæological investigations which were stopped in 1874 are now, the Lahore paper is glad to learn, about to be recommenced in the Peshawur valley, where so many valuable records of antiquity and art were formerly discovered. As stated yesterday, a company of Engineers will assist in these explorations. The remains, it must be remembered, are principally Buddhist ruins, and their type is generally that known as Indo-Grecian, the Hindus having retained many of the pure ideas of art which they borrowed from their Greek invaders; although no absolutely Grecian remains have as yet been found. These relics are often of great beauty; and the Curator of Ancient Monuments may be congratulated on the promised aid of well disciplined labour, instead of having to trust to the tender mercies of Punjabi coolies.

REGARDING the outbreak of cholera in the Hedjaz, we take the following from the Egyptian Gazette of the 16th instant:—"The International Sanitary Council has communicated to us the following intelligence, received by telegram dated Mecca, 5th instant, from Dr. Chaffey Bey, Sanitary Delegate. Since the 1st November cholera has been increasing in the Hedjaz. Dr. Chaffey Bey has been able to ascertain the following number of deaths from cholera:—

|---|---|---|
| On 1st November... | ..... | 48 deaths. |
| " 2nd | " | 49 " |
| " 3rd | " | 55 " |
| " 4th | " | 215 " |
| " 5th | " | 214 " |
| Total | ... | 581 deaths. |

At the time of the despatch of the telegram there were 60 persons ill with cholera. In connection with the foregoing we are enabled to publish an extract from a private letter, dated the 9th inst., from a resident in Jeddah. As is easily gathered from its tenor, it was written before the new quarantine arrangements were known in Jeddah:—"We are quite without any communication from the outer world, and as to sending any letters from here it is almost impossible. The epidemic in Mecca has caused fearful ravages. Pilgrims and population are fleeing to Jeddah and the desert. The former are pouring into the town now, and it is a common thing to see them fall dead from the camels. The matter is very serious, as in three days more all will have reached here. The mortality will be heavy. Day and night since the 5th of the month I hear the wailings of my surrounding neighbours over their dead. Truly it is a fearful visitation. We are quite locked here, Egypt refuses all arrivals from Arabia, in fact they are repulsed; and pilgrims bound north, of which there are 14,000, will have to remain here."

"ATLAS" is responsible for the following:—On dit from Dublin, that after the municipal elections the majority of the Corporation will propose to remove Mr. Gladstone's name from the roll of freemen of the city. This, they hope, will obliterate the defeat of the motion to make freemen of Messrs. Parnell and Dillon.

"INQUIRER" writes to a London paper:—"Could any of your numerous readers explain why the charge for telegrams to Russia should be so exorbitant compared with that made for messages to France, Germany, &c.? The cost per word to Hemel (Germany), for instance, is only 3d., whilst to Riga (Russia), which is but a short distance further, 9d. per word is charged. Formerly one could send twenty words to Riga for 10s., but since the new tariff was introduced the same message costs 15s. This is a question of interest to commercial men." Can anyone explain why the charge for telegrams between India and England should be so exorbitant—4s. 6d. a word? We believe men thoroughly acquainted with the whole question hold that a reduction of the charge to 1s. a word would be a paying step, as well as an immense boon, both to the commercial and general public.

HIS MAJESTY KALAKAUA, King of the Sandwich Islands, having returned to San Francisco, has completed his tour round the world. The whole journey occupied about eight months. On the 8th of February His Majesty set out from San Francisco for Japan and China. Thence he proceeded to Siam, through the Straits Settlements, across to Calcutta, overland to Bombay, and then, vid the Suez Canal, to Cairo and the Pyramids. Crossing over to Europe, he spent some time at Naples, Pompeii, and Rome. After an audience with the Pope he sailed for London, and from there proceeded to Brussels, Cologne, Berlin, Vienna, Paris, Madrid, and Lisbon. He next returned to England, visiting Glasgow, Edinburgh, and Queenstown, and took passage at the last-named place for New York. On reaching the United States the King visited many places of interest, including Washington, Fort Monroe, and Lexington, Kentucky. Colonel Judd, who had the management of the tour, says that favourable weather was enjoyed throughout, and that not the slightest accident or inconvenience occurred.

A GOLD medal has been struck in Naples in commemoration of the part taken by Italians in the riots which took place before the Italian consulate at Marseilles in June last. The inscription is as follows:—"To the everlasting memory of the thirty courageous Italians who, on the occasion of the barbarous aggression at Marseilles, in June, 1881, while walking in that city, compelled respect for their country's flag."

YET another evidence that the conclusion of a commercial treaty has not set Italy and France at one. The Opinione has a long article, in which it protests that matters remain as they were before the treaty was signed:—"The vital matter for Italy is that the balance of power has been disturbed in the Mediterranean."

THE crew of the steamer Matthew Curtis, which went ashore in a fog near Cape Guardafui on October 2, on a voyage from Calcutta for Cardiff, were landed at Cardiff on Friday, November 4. A few hours after the vessel struck it was attacked by several hundred savages armed with spears. Having no firearms on board, the unfortunate men were unable to make a prolonged defence, and at nightfall they took to the boats and abandoned the steamer to her fate. They were picked up by an English vessel on the following day.

AN announcement has appeared in the home papers to the effect that the Sultan intends to resume the works for the restoration of Solomon's Temple at Jerusalem. An article on the subject in the Jewish Chronicle, which gives some interesting details, points out that Solomon's Temple was not so big as people commonly imagine—not above 600 feet square, in fact.

Truth says there is no foundation whatever for the statement that the Duke of Connaught "is to have a command abroad next year." His time at Aldershot will not expire yet awhile; and when he moves from there, his new quarters will not be far off.

MR. EDWIN TAUNTON, of the Junior Carlton Club, has been summoned at the Marlborough-street police-court by Colonel Charles Napier Sturt for using threats towards him by which he went in danger of his life. Colonel Sturt stated that he was entering the Marlborough Club, Pall Mall, when the defendant called him a scoundrel and waved a bludgeon or a large stick over his head, saying that he would mark him and brain him. Having a horror of a street row, he told the defendant to leave him, and went away, and on doing so the defendant called him some bad names. Replying to a question, the complainant said the defendant was his father-in-law. It was stated that the defendant had a certain amount of provocation and justification for what he had done, but that would be dealt with in another court. Mr. Mansfield said nothing could justify such outrageous and ungentlemanly conduct as that of the defendant. He was ordered to find two bails in £500 each and his own in £1,000.

SECUNDERABAD.

SECUNDERABAD, Nov. 20.

CHOLERA, I am sorry to write, has again broken out at this station, after about a month-and-a-half's cessation; cases have occurred in the jail, police-lines, and in the 28th Regiment M. N. I., part of which has been sent out into camp. The municipal and medical officials are bestirring themselves, and promptly dealing with each case as it crops up. This is as it should be, but it is an unfortunate fact that no radical measures have ever been taken in hand for the proper sanitation of the cantonment. Bombay citizens, who are so careful in regard to the purity of their water supply, will be surprised to hear that the entire sewage of the town of Secunderabad is conveyed bodily into the Hussain Saugor tank, which supplies more than half the native population of the station with water! This year, owing to insufficient rainfall, the quantity of water in the tank is much below the average, and, charged as it is with the usual quantity of sewage, the wonder is that a much larger number of cholera cases are not reported. Hyderabad is the happy region of lotus-eaters, and English officials employed in these parts seem imperceptibly to acquire the apathetic character of the Mogul surroundings, until any improvement upon the old dreamy state of things, however urgently called for, is indefinitely postponed to the future. To this indolence must be attributed the enormity that the native population of Secunderabad is made to drink its own sewage! A new Cantonment Magistrate, Major Ludlow, C. I. E., has assumed charge, and a more vigorous municipal administration than heretofore is promised.

The Hyderabad officials are more or less actively preparing for the approaching tour of the young Nizam to Aurungabad, where he will remain for four months. For various reasons it has been considered advisable that only a limited number of city nobles should accompany his Highness, and, as all of them are most anxious to be of the honoured few, the Minister is placed in an uncomfortable position, as on him devolves the duty of selection and, be he ever so careful in choosing, much jealousy and bad feeling is sure to be created among the nobles left out of the list; yet it would be impossible to permit every city noble, with his inseparable retinue, to accompany the Prince, without doing harm to the country through which he journeys, owing to the vast quantities of food and forage that would have to be supplied or collected on the march. Captain Clerk, Superintendent of his Highness' education, having returned from sick leave, has resumed his duties from Major F. Wilson, Assistant Resident, who was acting for him. His Highness has greatly improved, morally, intellectually, and physically under Major Wilson's charge.

THE AHMEDABAD FEMALE TRAINING COLLEGE.

(FROM A CORRESPONDENT.)

AHMEDABAD, Nov. 26.

YESTERDAY the prizes won by the pupils of the Ahmedabad Female Training College were distributed in the hall of the Mission High School by Mr. Mr. Phillpotts, Judge of Ahmedabad. Many European ladies and gentlemen, as well as native gentlemen, were present. The pupils of the College and practising schools entered the hall singing a "Marching Song." After singing a number of exercises and songs, Rao Saheb Mhaipatram Bupram, Principal of the Male Training College, read the annual report. From this it appears that the Female Training College has now completed its first decade, having only six pupils; but the progress has been so marked that, after sending out thirty-six trained teachers, there are twenty-nine on the rolls. The advance in other respects is not less remarked, as the class of work turned out conclusively proves. The hand-drawn maps of the pupils are rare specimens of neatness and care. The plain sewing and fancy needle-work (which were very much admired by the ladies present) would do honour to our best English schools. The College is attended by all the better classes of native women who, coming in contact with one another, soon lose the prejudices of their own particular caste and learn that some good does really exist outside their own narrow circle. The girl who in examination this year came out first of the whole College is a native Christian. This is a proof that the native Christian community, which in Ahmedabad and the neighbourhood is now large enough to make its presence felt, is able to take a fair place in open competition.

After the reading of the report and distribution of the prizes—gifts of Rao Bahadur Bechardas Ambaidas, C. S. I., and Mr. M. M. Kunte. Mr. Giles made a speech, detailing the difficulties met and surmounted. He was followed by Mr. Phillpotts, who expressed his satisfaction at the success of the institution, and his great interest in female education. The pupils then sang "God save the Queen," and afterwards marched out in pairs, singing the dispersing song. Many of the ladies, after the close of the meeting, lingered round the tables covered with beautiful work, examining the results produced by the deft fingers of their Hindu sisters.

To Miss Collett, for her untiring efforts and indefatigable labours, and the whole-heartedness with which she has thrown herself into the cause of native female education, the people of this province are under a deep debt of gratitude. The greater number of the songs sung on the occasion were her own composition. Her assistants, the Misses Sorabji, also deserve great credit for the admirable way they have discharged their duties. Mr. Revashunkar Ambaram, the head-master of the College, also merits great praise for the excellent work he has done in the institution.

ENTICING AWAY A MARRIED WOMAN.

DISMISSAL OF THE CHARGE.

AT the Girgaum Police Court yesterday Bunnoobee, an ayah, was again placed before Mr. Dosabhoy Framjee on a charge of enticing away Fatma, a married woman. Mr. Dinshaw Davar appeared for the defence.

Mr. Davar, in answer to the court, said he had some witnesses to call for the defence.

The magistrate, in giving his decision, said that after the evidence of Mr. Hormusjee Jehangir Dadysett, the landlord of the house in which, according to the girl Fatma, she had lodged for about a month and a half, he thought it was unnecessary to go further into the defence. The enticing away of Fatma was said to have taken place on the 27th of June last; but, according to her evidence, she remained in that house for about a month and a half, while Mr. Hormusjee Jehangir Dadysett had sworn that the repairs of his house were completed by the 15th of June, and that he returned to live in it with his family the next day. There was no reason to doubt Mr. Hormusjee's evidence; but the magistrate remarked that a good opportunity presented itself on Monday afternoon, when the court inspected the house, of testing the accuracy of that gentleman's statement. Parsee ladies generally well remembered the Parsee day and month on which they removed from one house to another; and his Worship took the opportunity of suddenly questioning the ladies of Mr. Hormusjee's house as to the date on which they returned from the Gowalia Tank to the Fort house. The ready answer which they gave as to the Parsee day and month corresponded with the English date given by Mr. Hormusjee. His Worship further remarked that no stronger proof could be adduced than the answers which Fatma gave while at that house, in support of her statement that she had not lived in that house. The room which she pointed out was not in the back part of the house as she had previously stated, but it was one next to the hall, in the front part of the house. She showed considerable ignorance about the two rooms which she pointed out. She said she washed herself at a water-pipe, which, however, she failed to point out. The fact, however, was that Fatma's water was all laid on in the premises, and there was no pipe at all. His Worship was therefore satisfied that she did not live in the house for about a month and a half as alleged by her. She could not have occupied the room which she pointed out, situated as it was most prominently, and next to the hall and the only room in front of the house, without her being seen by Mr. Hormusjee, or his son, or his chief Karbharee, who daily superintended the repairs. The chief part of Fatma's story having thus broken down, it remained for the court to consider the nature of the other evidence. In other respects, also, the girl's evidence was utterly unworthy of belief. She had made four statements, each one different from the other. She told the Foujdar of Mahar one story at first, and an entirely different story a few days after. In this court she gave one version on Wednesday, and another on Friday. The hamal Mahomed Adum had recanted the evidence he gave on Friday last. He was altogether an untruthful witness. His Worship could not for a moment believe that he was tutored by the police. Moreover, it was not a police case. The defence were at liberty to proceed against Mahomed Adum for perjury, if so advised. The remaining evidence was not sufficient to sustain the charge, but his Worship could not help observing that the prisoner had something to do with the girl's leaving her husband's house. It was impossible to believe that Fatma should, of all other places, have gone such a long way as Pareil and presented herself at the house where the prisoner was employed, and asked for protection as a beggar. A Mahomedan girl was not likely to do that at a Parsee's house. That there had been some complicity between the prisoner and Fatma in the first instance, the court had no doubt; but the girl had made so many false and contradictory statements, and the evidence of the other witnesses not counting much, the prisoner was discharged.

The witness Mahomed Adum, who had been detained by order of the court, was also discharged. Mr. Davar remarked that the defence had no intention of proceeding against him, inasmuch as they believed that his first statement was not voluntarily made.

THEFT AT GORUBDEW-ROAD.—Ramtooalall Sewbux, residing at Gorubdew-road, reported to the police that on the night of the 27th instant some person had stolen a box containing gold ornaments, currency notes, and cash of the value of Rs. 150. On the following Monday morning he found on a plain about three hundred yards from his residence the box empty. A currency note for Rs. 5 and one rupee in silver were lying close by the box.

ASSAULTING HIS WIFE.—Byroo Luximon was yesterday charged before Mr. C. P. Cooper with voluntarily causing grievous hurt to his wife, Wittee, with an instrument for cutting. The woman declined to give evidence against her husband, and stated that the wound inflicted on her head by the prisoner was caused in a sudden heat of passion, but with no malicious intention. His Worship postponed the hearing of the case for a week.

NATIVE MARRIAGE CELEBRATIONS.—On Monday evening an entertainment was given by Mr. Goculdas Jugmohundas, at the Madhav Bagh, Girgaum, in connection with the wedding of his daughter, Vijlibai, a young lady fifteen years of age. The guests, who were very numerous, and included a number of European ladies and gentlemen, listened to the singing and watched the dancing of the nautch-girls for a time, and as they became tired of the somewhat monotonous and monotonous movements of the dancers, they took their leave to make way for fresh arrivals. Mr. Goculdas has issued invitations to attend his daughter's wedding, which will take place at the Madhav Bagh temple this (Wednesday) afternoon at 5 o'clock.—A large and distinguished party assembled at the Rao Saheb Vishvanath Narayen Mandlik's bungalow, Pedder-road, Malabar-hill, last evening, in answer to invitations to an entertainment in honour of the wedding of the Rao Saheb's son, which was celebrated a few days ago.

KIDNAPPING.—Yesterday at the Fort Police Court Abdool Raymon, described as a servant, was charged before Mr. C. P. Cooper with kidnapping a Mahomedan girl named Ismuth, a minor about eleven years of age, from the lawful guardianship of her mother. The evidence for the prosecution went to show that the girl in question lived with her mother, Batasee, in a house at the Bhendy-bazaar. During the last Dewali festival the girl was missed, and the mother, who is of the weaver caste, suspected the accused, who was employed as a servant by her landlord, of having enticed away her daughter. He, however, denied all knowledge of the girl. On the day following the prisoner absconded; and subsequently it was discovered that he had enticed the girl to Boranpore, at which place, on certain information received by the police, they were both arrested, and sent down to Bombay. The mother, in her evidence, stated that her daughter had been married to a man named Khoodabux some three years ago. The husband of the girl was called into court for identification, and appeared to be about twenty-five years of age. His Worship, after recording some further evidence, adjourned the case to Tuesday next, the 6th proximo.

HIGH COURT.—NOVEMBER 29.

THE following, among other matters, were heard by his Lordship:—

THE LONDON, BOMBAY, AND MEDITERRANEAN BANK vs. FRAMJEE SORABJEE BHARUCHA.

Mr. Starling, for the plaintiff, said that the defendant wanted to dispute the claim, and applied that the matter should be transferred to the long cause list.

Mr. H. A. Wadia, instructed by Messrs. Ardesir and Hormusjee, opposed the application on behalf of the defendant. He said that the matter had been hanging over his client for the last five years, the plaint having been filed in 1876.

The judge said that was no reason why a case should not be transferred to the long cause list, if sufficient cause should be shown for it.

Mr. Wadia said if the claim had been true, it would not have been kept hanging for five years. Postponements had been obtained from time to time, without sufficient reason.

His Lordship observed that it was evidently a contested matter, and therefore allowed the application for its transfer to the long cause list.

THE SAME BANK vs. VISHWANATH BAPOO.

Mr. Lyon moved on behalf of the plaintiff for a postponement until the 17th January, on the ground that summons had not yet been served on the defendant.

The application was granted.

The suits instituted by the same bank against Syed Abdool Rahim, Cowasjee Maneckjee Vatcha, Ruttonjee Maneckjee, Nusserwanjee Ruttonjee-Setna, Morarjee Bhimjee, and Junadas P'an vulubhdas were struck out for want of appearance of the parties.

(Before the Hon'ble Mr. Justice BAYLEY in Chambers.)

SUIT TO SET ASIDE AN ADOPTION.

YADAWRAO SADASHEW vs. GUNGADHAR MADHOWRAO AND ANOTHER.

THE following plaint was accepted by his Lordship some time back as a long cause:—The deceased Yeshwantrao Gopalrao was the adopted son of he well-known Baroda banker Rao Saheb Gopalrao Myral, and was in his lifetime separate in estate from his nearest sapinda kinsman, that Yeshwantrao Gopalrao was the natural born son of Madhowrao Ramchandra and the natural born brother of the defendant Gungadharao Madhowrao, but by a different mother. Yeshwantrao died intestate at Baroda on or about the 15th July, 1876, leaving him surviving his widow, who is the second defendant, Luxmibai, his mother Narbudabai, and as his nearest kinsman, the plaintiff and his brother Appa Saheb, Sadashew Juggonnath, Sadashew Vishnu Sadashew, Venayekrao Sadashew, one Wamunrao Krishnarao, one Bhicajee Gujanun, and the first defendant. The deceased was at the time of his death possessed of moveable and immoveable property in Bombay of considerable value, and of a firm or banking house, also of firms and properties at Surat, Broach, Benares, Sholapore, Moreshwara, Hyderabad (Deccan) Barsee, Nandod, Jamnaghar, Rajkote, and Baroda. The properties situated in British India are of very great value. Yeshwantrao Gopalrao was in a dying state, when the first defendant was called into the room where he was lying, and was adopted by the deceased, who then directed one Madhowrao Ramchundra to sign a document relating to such adoption. The plaintiff states that such adoption was the act of the first defendant, in fact, took place. The first defendant at the time of the alleged adoption was of the age of 21 years, or thereabouts, and was married. He was also an orphan, and the only son then unadopted of his father's family. The plaintiff contends that the adoption was invalid in law, and conferred upon the first defendant no right to the property, in British India, or elsewhere, left by the deceased. By virtue of the alleged adoption, the defendant upon the death of Yeshwantrao Gopalrao entered into possession of all the properties left by the latter, and is now in the enjoyment of the same. The plaintiff and other sapindas of Yeshwantrao are not entitled at present to possession of the properties, as the second defendant is entitled to a life interest therein. By reason of the alleged adoption, the first defendant has been recognized by the Government authorities at Baroda as the heir of the deceased Yeshwantrao Gopalrao. The second defendant at first assented to the alleged adoption, but is now, as the plaintiff believes, willing that it should be set aside.

Under these circumstances, the plaintiff prayed that it might be declared that the adoption was invalid; that the first defendant by reason of such alleged adoption, acquired no right to the property left by the deceased; that the plaintiff's interest in the property might be ascertained and declared; and that, if necessary, an account of the property come to the hands of the first defendant might be taken by and under the direction of the court; and that the first defendant might be restrained by the order and injunction of the court from removing any portion of the moveable property, or in any

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE,
THE ORIGINAL and ONLY GENUINE.

ADVICE TO INVALIDS.—If you wish to obtain quiet, refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary achings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media, and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by Dr. J. Collis Browne (late Army Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE, and which is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.
CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma.
CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.
CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms.
CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, January 5, 1880, to J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, London. Dear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the wide-spread reputation this justly esteemed medicine Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne,
